BLOODHOUNDS TRAIL ROBBERS IN ESTILL

Two Boys and a Woman Arrested For Robbing Store—Frozen Creek P. O. Burglarized

Three arrests were made in connection with the burglary of the store of Tipton and Neal, a mile from Miller's Creek, Estill county, Monday night, Captain V. G. Mullikin, of Lexington, announced following his return from the scene, where he had gone with his bloodhounds to assist in the search made by the authorities.

Mrs. Annie Howal was one of those arrested. She was charged with concealing stolen property. William Pittman, 16 years old, and James King, a negro boy, also 16 years old, were the others arrested.

Approximately $1,000 worth of clothing and merchandise had been taken from the store.

Mullikin's dogs trailed to the edge of Lee county and lost the trail. Residents, however, told of a negro and white boy going down the road in the direction the dogs had been following. It was later learned that the boys were spending the night in the neighborhood. The next morning Capt. Mullikin, accompanied by a number of other men, surrounded the house in which the boys were staying.

King, the negro boy, walked out on the porch and covered Sid Chapman merchant, with a revolver. One of the other members of the posse disarmed the boy before he could fire. The pistol was later identified as one which had been stolen from Chapman's store several weeks before. A search of the house was made, and most of the stolen merchandise recovered. Mrs. Howal was arrested. The three were then taken to Beattyville and placed in jail.

While at Irvine, Capt. Mullikin received a call from Frozen Creek in Breathitt county, stating that the postoffice and general store at that place, operated by William Day, had been entered Tuesday night and $400 in stamps and cash taken, along with Liberty Bonds worth $200. Capt. Mullikin went to Frozen Creek at once with his dogs. The dogs, after following a trail for some distance down the railroad track, lost it near the banks of the Kentucky river. It was learned afterwards that two men had stolen a boat and had been seen going down the river in it.

FOCH CAN'T READ ALL MAIL HE GETS

Paris, April 29—Marshal Foch says that one of his great regrets is that he has not time enough to properly digest the big mail he receives. Like most men in a conspicuous position, he gets daily a batch of correspondence that keeps his aids busy, sift the trivial and eccentric from the important and interesting.

Friends and enemies alike write him profusely and their letters run the whole gamut from ecstatic adulation to frenzied vituperation. This morning he received a dozen letters and as many packages from the same person, an American. All were registered. The American must have known that this class of mail gets first attention by the Marshal's staff.

Nearly every mail brings a letter from some pro-German in America inviting the Marshal to have himself hanged or to go to the place of fire and brimstone. By every mail some one sends him an ode or a song written in his honor.

Mothers write him informing him they have named the finest baby in the world after him, and American fathers send word that they would have taken a good drink in his honor on some anniversary or other had not the United States gone dry.

Authors send him their books and inventors forward descriptions of wonderful engines of destruction or schemes to suppress war.

The Marshal's advice is asked on all subjects with which he says he is least familiar.

What has amused him most lately was a post card received from San Francisco with the photographs of two pickannines and the inscription, "Here Young America."

SANDERS STILL HAS TRYSTER FAVORITE

Louisville, April 29—V. Sanders, turf writer in The Times today narrow the prospective Kentucky Derby field to 17 horses. He places the prospective odds on Tryster and Prindely at 5 to 2; Leonardo II, 4 to 1, and on Grey Lag, 8 to 1. Ben Bolt trails the list at 100 to 1.

Destroyer Squadron At Narragansett

Newport, R. I., April 29—Narragansett Bay is to be the base of the destroyer squadron of the Atlantic fleet this summer. The rendezvous will bring 150 destroyers and auxiliary vessels to these waters. Five destroyers have already arrived.

The main fleet of destroyers, it has just been announced, will leave Charleston, S. C., their winter base on May 15, and proceed to New York for a stay of two weeks to permit the crews to have shore liberty. The squadron, under command of Rear Admiral A. H. Robertson, will then proceed to Narragansett Bay arriving about June 5.

Convicts Win Privileges By Working Hard

Frankfort, Ky., April 29—Because of steady falling off in production in the factories at the state reformatory, minimum days' work will be assigned to the convicts beginning in May, Superintendent Bastin announced today. The reward for doing the minimum will be yard privileges, while those who refuse to do that amount will be kept in the factories an hour and a half longer and denied the yard privilege.

Superintendent Bastin said the plan did not restore the old task system which is opposed by most modern prison men, but merely set a suitable minimum task and provided a reward for its being done.

BLOODHOUNDS TRAIL AUBURN BANK YEGGS

(By Associated Press)

Russellville, Ky., April 29—After trailing them all night on clues furnished by relatives, two men believed to be the bandits who robbed the G. W. Davidson & Company bank at Auburn of $113,000 in cash and bonds Tuesday were captured today near a mining town in Muhlenberg county, 30 miles north of here. The men were caught at Corum's Ferry on Mud river.

The men offered no resistance. About $3,000 in gold and currency was found on them. The men are being brought to Auburn for positive identification.

The arrests were preceded by the discovery of $101,000 in bonds wrapped in the sleeve of a coat and buried near the home of Vivian Thomason at Bald Knob church in Logan county. Thomason and his son were taken into custody by detectives who had been working on the robbery. On information from them a hunt began for Boyd Thomason, Vivian's brother, and another man said to be named Smith, who came from Oklahoma recently with Boyd Thomason. A posse searching the countryside today came upon the pair as they were crossing Mud river in a skiff. As they were preparing to cross Mud river, rifles leveled at them induced them to surrender.

CONVICTS TO HEAR PROMINENT MEN

Frankfort, Ky., April 29—Convicts in the Kentucky State Reformatory are to hear some of the best known speakers in Central Kentucky, it was announced here today by Superintendent H. V. Bastin. Each Wednesday afternoon some prominent man will speak to the convicts, the first speech of the series having been on last Wednesday afternoon when Rev. Noe, of the Frankfort Christian church, made a talk.

"These men are going back into civil life, so why not do our best to prepare them by giving them some kind of inspiration," said the superintendent in talking of his plan. "If we who have not transgressed the law need inspiration, how much more to the men who have been placed behind these white stone walls for a period of years need it. There ought to be enough persons interested in the question in Central Kentucky to furnish a man to speak to the convicts every week."

The speakers will pay their own expenses, Mr. Bastin said, for the prison has no money for that purpose.

FIRST PROTESTED GAME IN LEAGUE

Methodists	2	0	2	.000

In a game, which was played under protest and will be formally protested to President Elmer Deatherage of the Richmond Church League, says Captain Jas. Shaw, of the Calvary Baptist church, the First Christian church nine defeated the Calvary boys by a score of 12 to 6 Thursday afternoon.

The game was hard fought from the start, and there was much protesting over decisions of Umpire Stone Norman. The Calvary boys say that they will seek to have the game thrown out of the standing and played over, because of certain erroneous decisions which he made, they say. It is expected that President Deatherage, who was not present at the game, because of jury service at Irvine, will hear both sides and decide what is to be done.

This is the first protested game that has yet been played in the Church League. The boys are fighting hard for victory at all times, and aren't permitting a single point to get away from them. There will be no further games in the League this week because of the Normal team's schedule of games Friday and Saturday afternoon. There is one game to be played next week carried over from this, the Methodists against the Second Christians.

Announcement will be made later of the date of this game and others for next week. The score:

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

AT CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

If I knew you and you knew me,
How little trouble there would be,
We pass each other on the street,
But just come out and let us meet,
At church next Sunday.

Everyone intends to do what's fair,
And treat his neighbor on the square,
But he may not quite understand
Why you don't take him by the hand
At church next Sunday.

This world is sure a busy place,
And we must hustle in the race,
For social hours some are not free
The six week days, but all should be
At church next Sunday.

We have an interest in our town,
The dear old place must not go down;
We want to push good things along,
And we can help some if we're strong
At church next Sunday.

Don't knock and knock and sham and sham
At anybody on the map,
But push and pull and boom and boom,
And use up all the standing room
At church next Sunday.

The court will be entertained by groups of merrymakers dancing on the lawn; the May pole dance, a Spanish dance, a Dutch dance, and a Gypsy dance, all in costume. College Hill, Ky., April 29. Mr. E. A. Boggie, while digging a well between this place and Waco, struck oil and some gas. He says that the last six feet was clay and small stones with oil mixed through them. He says he struck rock the last two feet that had a crevice in same. Here he struck a small stream of water with gas and oil coming up. He believes this oil and gas has come up from a considerable depth, and that there is a pool of oil and gas in this immediate vicinity. He has taken the matter up with the state geologist. He warns the land owners to be careful about leasing their lands to speculators. He believes he can make arrangements with a responsible company to drill some wells in this section of the country. This well is about a mile from College Hill.

How Diphtheria is Contracted
One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. If your child has a cold when diphtheria is prevalent you should take him out of school and keep him off the streets until fully recovered, as there is a hundred times more danger of his taking diphtheria when he has a cold. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted.

Plenty of Feed Makes Best Colt
A colt is "made" from the time it is six months old until it is weaned at six months of age, and if stunted during that time will never fully recover, according to Prof. W. S. Anderson, of the State College of Agriculture, who recommends that the young animal be taught to eat grain with its mother and given all it can eat. The matter of proper feeding of the colt is given first importance by the animal husbandry expert.

Prior to the time that a young animal begins to eat grain the mother should be receiving a varied diet consisting of corn, oats, bran and linseed oil meal with pronounced as the cause.

FAIRMOS BRONZE BELL RINGERS REMOVED

By Associated Press

New York, April 29—Two bronze bellringers, which for 26 years sounded out the hours for crowds in Herald Square, have been hushed by the progress they recorded. Their home, the famous old New York Herald building, one of the architectural beauties of Manhattan, is being demolished to make room for a skyscraper.

Crowds loved to stand where Broadway is crossed by Sixth Avenue and Thirty-fifth street, and watch the twin figures bang their sledges against the big bell suspended between them. With the heroic-sized Minerva which stood above them and the big bronze owls which roosted along the cornice of the building they are to be preserved.

The Herald Building, designed in Italian Renaissance style, after the municipal structure at Verona, Italy, was built on leased land in 1893, the lease providing that at its expiration the structure should revert to the landowners, but the lessee would keep the bronze ornaments. These were designed by Jean Carles, a French sculptor, and were said to have cost James Gordon Bennett, then owner of Herald, $200,000. The bellringers were similar to those on building opposite St. Marks in Venice.

They may be placed on the proposed James Gordon Bennett Memorial Home for Newspapermen. On the day they were removed from the familiar surroundings, a movement was started to change the name of Herald Square to Bennett Square.

Lambs on Good Pasture Will Make Rapid Gains

In order that lambs may gain as rapidly as possible and reach a marketable weight at an early age it is necessary that they be provided with some form of supplementary pasture in addition to the bluegrass pasture, according to livestock specialists. Such pastures are especially necessary during the hot summer months when bluegrass pastures are dry and parched and furnish neither succulence nor nourishment. Sudan grass, rape, oats, cowpeas, soy beans, sorghum are all good crops for furnishing these supplementary pastures.

Dwarf Essex Rape is one of the best that can be used to advantage during summer months if planted in April, according to Prof. L. J. Harfacher, of the Animal Husbandry Department of the College of Agriculture. Best results are obtained when six to eight pounds per acre are sown broadcast and lightly harrowed into the soil. It is best not to begin pasturing until the plants are eight to ten inches high as more feed is furnished if a large amount of leaf surface is allowed to develop. Bloating from the rape may be prevented by sowing one-half bushel of oats with it per acre. A small amount of mustard seed sown with the rape will also prevent bloating.

Cowpeas may be sown from May 15 to June 15 and soybeans from May 1 to July 1. Sorghum and sudan grass that are to be used for supplementary pastures may be sown in May or early in June. Complete information in regard to supplementary pasture for sheep may be obtained by writing the Experiment Station, Lexington.

School Tax Law Defined

Frankfort, Ky., April 29—County school taxes should be imposed only upon property subject to county levy and not upon certain classes of property assessed for state purposes only was the opinion given Thursday by Attorney General Charles I. Dawson. The question was raised by reason of the fact that some county school superintendents are laboring under the belief that all classes of property assessed for state purposes are subject to the county school taxes.

MILL LUMBER IS AT 1914 PRICE AGAIN

By Associated Press

Louisville, Ky., April 29—The export of lumber has increased in the last three or four months, according to J. S. Thompson, manager of the Southern Hardwood Traffic Association. The United Kingdom is getting a considerable quantity now, he says, while others of the European countries are increasing their demand gradually.

Lumber at the mill is down to the prices that existed during 1913 and 1914, he said, but the general movement has not increased as anticipated and a further shutdown of mills in some cases is not improbable unless buying opens up at an early date. The foreign demand is not sufficient yet, he declares, for it to materially affect the supply on hand at the different mills. It will be some time before the available supply is low enough for the mills to resume full operations.

A "Go-Getter" That Never Fails

THE OBJECT of advertising is to make people want something that you have to offer, and to make them definitely want, not simply the general type or kind of article or commodity you have, but that very brand or product itself.

This fact in advertising is what makes a trademark, or nameplate or any other consistently used symbol, by which a thing becomes familiarly known, worthwhile and of value.

Advertising is the "Go-Getter" of the business world, the service that creates desire which turns into demand. It finds buyers in the hidden places, and opens up avenues for the distribution of merchandise that are unapproachable through any other source. It locates and develops unrevealed markets, and opens the wide trade fields that lead to growth and expansion.

It is the pathway along which vision points the way to success.

There are many ways in which to advertise. News and farm papers and magazines, street cars and billboards, lighted signs and direct mail letters are only a few of the many existing forms of media. Each general class of media has uses for which it is best adapted. In each general class there are certain definite media that may be especially well-fitted by reason of extent or character of circulation, or prominence of location, for the setting forth of the desired selling message.

The selection of the proper media is one of the most important points in connection with successful advertising. Linked with the advertisement itself, this choice of media means a sympathetic visualization of a selling message to an appreciative audience, or it means a futile effort to foist on uninterested people something for which they do not care. And so the necessity of selecting the right media is just as vital as the preparation of the advertising.

tising copy. Good copy in an unsuited medium is even more gone to waste than poor copy in a good medium.

The ideal arrangement, of course, is the strong, concise, well-displayed selling message addressed through the proper source of circulation to the kind of people one is trying to reach.

And herein is the advantage that agency service gives.

Agency Service offers the experience of trained men to perfect and direct the advertising campaign. With facilities not available to others, an agency determines the nature and number of media, it prepares the advertising matter and displays it with due regard to the essential points of commodity and of the class of people addressed. An agency watches the ebb and flow of trade and advises as to selling features and selling places. It is the watchful eye that is ever wake to the publicity interests of its clients.

The advertising agency determines the advertising plan in all its infinite details and then directs and watches its carrying out. It checks up the papers, renders the accounts, pays the bills, and in fact acts as its name indicates, as agent for the advertiser. This service is rendered without cost, the agency getting its compensation through commission from the advertising media used.

Let one of the nine reputable Southern agencies, listed below, all of which are alive to the advantages and opportunities of the South, talk over advertising with you. A card addressed to any one of them will bring immediate response.

Consult with one of the recognized and accredited Advertising Agencies named below. Allow one of them to submit an outline of the service they are prepared to render. You may be assured that an invitation to call will be appreciated and that no obligation whatsoever will be incurred.
